New York, April 29. Great crowds have been visiting the men-of-war up in the Hudson, all day long. It seems, so the story goes, that the young man went away, ostensibly on a vacation, and after his departure the young man who collected the firm's bills in his place was met by receipted accounts from their supposed debtors. About $600, some days ago, was the amount said to have been improperly collected, with new developments daily. The firm declines to say anything about the matter.

Reading what has been written about. Elder Baker reminds a correspondent of the Dexter Guzette of the time when Fred Douglass was lecturing through the construct. It was in the year of '55, I should say. He was not quite so popular at that time as he has been since or is now, but of course everybody in Dexter had a great desire to see and hear him; so, when it was announced he would speak in our largest meeting house, it was at an early hour well packed. Elder Baker sat is the pulpit beside Mr. Douglass. In his lecture Mr. Douglass was quite witty and told some stories which created laughter. The Elder seemed rather restless and ture Mr. Douglass was quite witty and told some stories which created laughter. The Elder seemed rather restless and disturbed by it, but was quite until some one on the street call "Fire! fire!" Of course it caused quite an excitement for awhile, and a number left the house but, finding it was done to disturb the meeting, came back. Douglass raised his hand and said: "When you hear a man call "Fi-re, ti-re-!" you need not be alarmed; but when you hear "Fire, fire, fire," why, then you may know it means something." Of course it created quite a laugh, which was more than the old man could stand, and rising in a dignified way, and with a look of disgust on his face he said: "I will let this assembly know there is one man of sense." and passed down the last. As he closed the door Mr. Douglass drew a deep sigh and proceeded with his talk.

MONDAY, MAY 1, 1893. The Canadian press praises Mr. Cleveland for his course in Hawail. Of course it does. He is playing late the hands of Great Britain with all the untoward zeal of a thoroughly unpatriotic Angle-maniac. Referring to the accident to the President who cut his head as he was getting LANE'S MEDIGINE into a hack on the day of the review, the New York Morning Advertisor says: "Mr. Cleveland has at last smelled powder and shed bleed on a patriotic occassion."

The great Columbian Exposition at Chicago will open to-day. For months past it has been the subject of numerous articles in the magazines add newspapers, thus giving the people some idea of what is in store for the visitors to the "White City," but even the most fascile writers agree that no mere word painting can picture the glories of the exposition which must be seen to be appreciated.

JOHN II. STONE, Recorder. After deliberating for about twentyeight hours the jury in the Buchanan case finally agreed on a verdict of murder in Notice is hereby given to the inhebitants of Ward Seven, in the givy of Enngor, qualified to vote for representatives, that a warrant has been issued to L. The similarity of this case to that of young Harris has attracted to it a large degree of public attention. Carl Schurz was very severet in his denunciation of "the party rogues" in his address before the Civil Service Reform League, but the New York Morning Adreveals the utter insineerity of his WM. B. CLARK, words in the following paragraph: It is queer that a man who is politically so pure and spotless as Mr. Schutz, always is pure and spettess as Mr. Schur z always is between elections, cannot keep himself in that condition during campaigns. Why is it that when an election is on men of bill peculiarly goody-goody stripe are always found cheek by lowl in co-operation with the Crokers and Murphys and Sheehann and Celrors whem they degougee so glibely after the fruits of their unholy allience. le after the fruits of their unhole alliance have been secured: Mr. Schugz was lastfall the facile (50) of these med whom he now represents as utterly unworthy, and he will be again whenever they require his services to promote the interests of The Chicago Interturn says. When, the Republican Senate wanted to authorize President Grant to send a commission to San Domingo to enquire as to the de-tire for autoexation the Democrats regarded it as an attempt to clothe the Presaight with autocratic power not in keepipg with a Republic, and Schator Alien G. When Republican papers speak of the rebel spirit in the South a class of doughface organs in the North come to the rescue with the remark that the Republicans are waving the bloody shirt and are seeking to keep the sectional feeling alive for political effect. The Charleston News out Control is a representative Southern REAL ESTATE SECURITY. paper, and we havite the attention of the dough-face editors to Southern sentiment to-day as voiced in the columns of the Charleston organ. It says: The bast thing for the Southern States rould have been the establishment of their tudependence as a Nation. Their connection with the Northern States costs them many m thous of dollars annually, and brings them we compensatory benefit whatever. They sought to establish their independence for that reason, and descret to withdrain from the old Union peaceably. No one on their side forced a "conflict between the sections" was fured a conflict. "Somebody has got to die" was the cry of an infuriated mob in South Carolina last week and as a result of this thirst for blood an innocent negro was hung. The responsibility for this inhuman performance rests as heavily upon Gov. Tillman as upon the mob itself. After arresting nineteen negroes without finding the right man, the mob turned its attention to the unfortunate victim referred to. As soon as this negro learned that he was suspected he went to the Governor of the State, declared his innocence and asked for protection. The man was taken before the victim of the unsuccessful assault who promptly relieved him of all suspictor. H. M. FAIRBANKS. - General Agent, But "somebody had to die" and the Gove ernor unmindful of the obligations resting him as the representative of law and er, and apparently more inhuman than the mon itself, surrendered the helpless wibject who had appealed to him for protection and thereby became a party to the braital murder that followed. When Gov-Fishback, of Arkansas, prepares another manifesto, asserting that the misrepresen-tations of Repuil tiean politicians are the resisons why intrigrants do not go South, it is to be hoped he will incude this South Carolina tynching as one of the proofs of this statement.
